

A New Treatment for

Douglas Fir

Preserve® treated Douglas fir combines the environmentally advanced protection of ACQ®, an arsenic- and chromium-free preservative treatment, with the proven strength and versatility of Douglas fir lumber. This combination provides architects, builders and consumers with a wide range of durable lumber products or structural applications where protection from decay and termites is required.

Product Features

- Arsenic- and Chromium- free preservative protection
- Meets AWPA preservative penetration and retention standards:
 - Above Ground • Ground Contact • Fresh Water Immersion • Marine Splash Zone*
- Available in sizes suitable for a wide range of applications:
 - Framing Lumber • Plywood • Posts • Deck and Walkway supports • Long Span Support Beams • Poles • Heavy Timbers • Landscaping Timbers • Playground Equipment • Wharf and Marina Decking*
- Approved under ICBO ES ER # 4981
- AASHTO Approved
- Proven long-term protection against decay and termites
- No EPA Hazardous Chemicals
- Contains no California Proposition 65 listed chemicals

treatedwood.com

ARSENIC
FREE